

Frida Svanberg

FRONTEND DEVELOPER

Hello, it's me,

Frida, the tech-savvy enthusiast you're about to meet! Surprise, surprise – I bet you didn't expect a dash of tech wizardry today!

I'm not your run-of-the-mill candidate – I'm a front-end developer with a twist, ready to tackle new challenges and bring a fresh perspective to your team.

In the vast world of coding, I've mastered the essentials: HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. But here's where it gets exciting. I'm all about the latest and greatest – Angular, TypeScript, React – you name it. And here's my secret sauce: I firmly believe that the web should be accessible to everyone, and I carry those values with me on every coding adventure.

Now, here's the quirky part. When I'm not coding, I'm on a wild journey of my own. Picture this: I'm elbow-deep in iOS devices, disassembling them and then giving them new life. My trusty Raspberry Pi is my sidekick, helping me turn my apartment into a smart haven (or maybe a smart chaos, but that's the fun part). I've been known to whip out a heat gun to open things up or grab a drill to find the perfect spot for my router. No challenge is too big!

But let's get back to business. I'm on the hunt for a fun and inclusive environment that thrives on learning and growth. My past experiences include navigating Agile Methodology, updating React libraries, and expanding companies to new horizons. I even bring a touch of whimsy to websites with hidden easter eggs and challenges. Plus, I take data security seriously – your secrets are safe with me.

I'm not just a developer; I'm a crafty Hufflepuff who can keep your website and mobile app shipshape. When I'm not coding or tinkering with gadgets, you'll find me indulging in Netflix marathons, savoring delicious dishes, cuddling with my cats, and expanding my collection of wands and Horcruxes. I've got a few superpowers too – I can belt out song lyrics from memory, craft puns, and dad jokes, and whip up an unforgettable vegan tzatziki.

You've now had a sneak peek into my quirky world. Don't be a stranger – let's connect for a real or virtual fika and see how we can make tech a little more exciting together!

Wishing you a bug-free day,
